

FIRST M. U. AD PRINTED IN '63

Ran in Missouri Republican and Told of Troops' Removal.

The first advertisement of the University published in a newspaper appeared September 1, 1863, in the Missouri Republican, now the St. Louis Republic. It was an announcement of the opening of the school year, giving the tuition, the rates for board and room, and appealed to the young men of the state who were searching for a school undisturbed by war to complete their education. It read:

University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri.
The next session of this institution will open on Monday, the 21st, of September, 1863, and close on the Wednesday next preceding the 4th, day of July 1864.

The tuition fee for the whole session is $20, payable in advance to the Treasurer, T. B. Gentry, Esq.

Board, including room, wood, light and washing, may be obtained in private families for $2 to $3 per week.

The Curators of the University have the satisfaction to announce the final withdrawal of all military occupation, and the entire and permanent restoration of the buildings and grounds to the educational uses to which they were originally consecrated. No portion of the state is less likely to be disturbed, and no retreat for studious young men will be more safe from interruption.

J. H. Lathrop, L. L. D.,
Chairman of the Faculty,
R. L. Todd, Secretary,
W. H. Allen, President Board.

TOMATO RAISING PAYS EXPENSES

M. U. Student Clears $300 on Crop From Acre of Land.

George A. Tumbleson of Bismarck, Mo., a freshman in the College of Agriculture, is paying his expenses through college by raising and canning tomatoes. Last summer Mr. Tumbleson set out 5,000 tomato plants on an acre of ground. The season was only fair but he sold his product at a profit of $300. Had the season been good Mr. Tumbleson said he would have cleared enough off his crop to put him through college.

Mr. Tumbleson did all the work himself, and sold the product in his home town. A grocer there kept the cans on a special shelf and sold them only to persons who called for that special brand.

The student plans to do the same work this year, but since he is in school, he will have to hire a man to do the planting for him. On the same number plants as cultivated last year Mr. Tumbleson expects to clear about $700.

F. L. KELSO, B. S. '10, IS HERE

Director of Government Farm Is Former Columbia Newspaper Man.

F. L. Kelso, B. S. in Agr. '10, now in the employ of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, arrived here last week from Washington, D. C., on his way to Ardmore, S. D. His work as director of the government farm at Ardmore necessitates his spending three of the coldest months in the capital of that state.

Mr. Kelso was business manager of the Columbia Herald in 1906, when Walter Williams, Dean of the School of Journalism, was editor. He was also editor of the College Farmer during the same years. He will be in Columbia two or three days.

To Have School for Calvary Church.

A plan has been made for the co-operation of the older members of Calvary Church with the work of the Sunday School, which it is hoped to put in force this morning. Adult classes for those inside and outside the University will provide a place for everyone who is in anyway interested in the church, and it is also hoped through them to obtain adequate means for everyone to take a part in the parish life no matter how small amount of time can be spared outside Church and Sunday School hours. The plan will be explained at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning.

Kansas Quintet Shows Strength This Year.

Kansas showed its basketball strength last Wednesday night when it defeated the Washburn quintet by the one-sided score of 55 to 9. This shows the Jayhawkers have a real team this year and will cause more trouble in the championship race than last year's team did. Gibbens, their diminutive forward, who also was a star performer at shortstop on the baseball team, is going great this year and scored six baskets in Wednesday night's game. R. Uhrlaub, left forward, also caged six field goals and appears to work well in the offense. The whole team took part in the scoring, everyone but the last substitutes getting at least one basket. Lindsey, last season's football captain, is playing guard.

Kewpies Defeat Jefferson City by a 34 to 17 Score.

The Columbia High School basketball team defeated the Jefferson City High School team last night by a score of 34 to 17. The game was rather slow. Morris, at forward, and Wayland, at guard, played consistent games. Rutledge had to be taken from the game because of a twisted knee.

The Kewpies will play Mexico Thursday night and Bowling Green Saturday night. Both of these games will be played out of Columbia.

FIVE WORDS TO JAPAN, $4.75

R. H. Turner, B. J. '16, One of First There to Profit by Reduction.

A message of five words can now be sent from Columbia to Japan by the Marconi wireless service from San Francisco at a rate of $4.75, while before this station was established at San Francisco the cost was $6.50. Transmission was begun on November 14, when President Wilson in Washington exchanged greetings with the emperor of Japan.

Ralph H. Turner, who was graduated from the School of Journalism of the University last June and is now United Press correspondent in Japan, and Jiro Tanaka, director of the posts and telegraphs, received messages from San Francisco the same day.

This station at San Francisco is designed for the simultaneous handling of four messages. At present the cable toll from San Francisco to Japan is $1.21 for first-class service, while the wireless toll is 80 cents a word. Messages are relayed at California and Hawaii, but it is expected that under some conditions California will be able to transmit direct to Japan.

LECTURES ON ART IN BUILDING

Dr. John Pickard Calls Missouri's Capitol One of Best Examples.

Dr. John Pickard of the University faculty gave an illustrated lecture on "Mural Art in Public Buildings" before the D. A. R. which met at the home of Mrs. E. A. Logan yesterday afternoon.

Doctor Pickard showed the interior and exterior of many public buildings, starting with the national capitol at Washington. Capitols of many of the states were shown. In his lecture Doctor Pickard said that the new Missouri capitol, when finished, would compare favorably with that of any other state and that it compared most favorably with the Minnesota capitol which is considered by many to be one of the best examples of public building in America. The Missouri capitol will be larger however than that of Minnesota.

Doctor Pickard is one of the six members of the committee selected by the Missouri Capitol Commission to direct the work of the decoration of the capitol at Jefferson City.

E. W. Stephens, chairman of the capitol commission, told the society the progress that had been made on the building. The society voted to the redecoration of the Missouri room of the Memorial Continental Hall in Washington, D. C., which is maintained by the D. A. R.

BURNING FLUES CAUSE FIRES

Chief Earl Kurtz Tells of Preventive Measures Against Danger.

A combination of cold, crisp air, choked chimneys and dry roofs is accountable for the fires Columbia has had within the last few days, according to Chief Earl Kurtz of the fire department. Of the nine alarms turned in this month, five of them have resulted from this cause—these being the ones that have caused the largest damage.

Last year sixteen fires were of this origin, and the property damage was $6,555.

Several preventives for these fires have been suggested by the Chief. The first is the use of asbestos or asphaltum roofing. This, he says, is better than a slate or tile roof being cheaper and lighter. The cheaper preventive, since the blazes are caused by sparks from flues, is the burning out of the flues when the roofs are damp. This can be done by opening the draughts and stuffing lighted paper into the stove or furnace.

Other remedies are having the chimney swept by a professional chimney-sweep, or by occasionally putting coarse salt in the stove on a bed of live coals. A quart to a half a gallon of salt should be used, according to the size and height of the chimney.

PLANS IDEAL FARM KITCHEN

Agricultural Extension Service Issues Circular by Miss Pancoast.

The agricultural extension service has issued a circular, "The Farm Kitchen," by Miss Carrie Pancoast. It is intended to save time and strength of the farm women as well as money and to provide sanitary conditions.

Besides plans showing the ideal arrangement of the kitchen, the circular contains pictures of well arranged kitchens in Greene, Jackson and Johnson Counties. Special emphasis is laid on the disadvantages of the use of the kitchen as a room for all work, because of improper flooring, poor lighting and ventilation, unnecessary space, and bad placing of equipment. An effort is made to make the suggestions practiced for families of various sizes and incomes. Prices and dimensions are given to facilitate the carrying out of these suggestions.

HOUSTON FOR VINCENT'S PLACE

Missouri Cabinet Member Mentioned as Minnesota U. Head.

From the Minnesota Journal:
David Francis Houston, Secretary of Agriculture in President Wilson's Cabinet, will be considered by regents of the University of Minnesota as a possible successor to President George E. Vincent.

The regents' committee who are to canvass the situation and report back to the regents equipped with the names of several men who will be considered for the place, will at once begin the real work of obtaining a new president.

Fred B. Snyder, president of the university board of regents, said recently that "absolutely nothing definite" had been done concerning the selection of a president.

Boxing Contest at the Gymnasium.

A boxing exhibition was staged between halves at the Missouri-Ames basketball game in Rothwell Gymnasium last night. Two two-round bouts made up the program, affording the large crowd of rooters a new type of diversion during the ten-minute wait. The first bout was between Edward Meisberger and Sam P. Locke. The second bout was staged by Ray H. Parker and David C. Killam.
